Operation R.A.I.D. now in effect on KY's Roadways

On Thurs. Nov. 1st, the Kentucky State Police began a six month fall/winter, holiday and New Year enforcement campaign entitled "Operation R.A.I.D." (Remove Aggressive, Impaired and Distracted Drivers from Kentucky's Roadways). This campaign will conclude on Tuesday, April 30, 2013.

This time of year is typically when more travelers take to the roadways due to the holiday seasons. With this in mind, there are greater chances of encountering persons exhibiting these types of driving behaviors. This high visibility campaign will focus enforcement efforts toward aggressive, impaired and distracted driving behavior, in order to save lives by reducing the number of fatal and incapacitating crashes, across the Commonwealth.

Saturation patrols and traffic safety checkpoints will be utilized in an effort to enhance driver awareness. Patrols will be increased in high-volume traffic areas and high-crash locations. For traffic safety checkpoint locations in your area, you may refer to the web site: www.kentuckystatepolice.org/posts/press/post6_checkpoints.htm.

The KSP encourage the motoring public to always be aware of their driving behaviors and to report any persons displaying unsafe driving behaviors. Persons can report unsafe drivers to the KY State Police toll-free, in Kentucky, at 1-800-222-5555. Callers may remain anonymous and should give a description of the vehicle, location, direction of travel, and license number if possible.

After 4 weeks and 699 entries, all the words were found for "Cool Deals" word search puzzles, sponsored by several local merchants. Rebecca Rumford of Brooksville was the lucky recipient of the $250 first place money. Joyce Haug of Brooksville was the second place winner receiving $100 cash. While Dale Clark of Augusta was the lucky third place winner receiving $50.

At this Christmas season we are reminded of the true meaning of the season ... Jesus Christ, who was born in a humble manger to teach all of love, acceptance and forgiveness. And while the tinsel, lights and presents are nice, we far too often stress ourselves emotionally and financially.

So, this Christmas take time to enjoy your many blessings and to remember our Savior's birth.

Scripture says this about the Savior's birth: "And there were shepherds living out in the fields nearby, keeping watch over their flocks at night. An angel of the Lord appeared to them, and the glory of the Lord shone around them, and they were terrified. But the angel said to them, "Do not be afraid. I bring you good news of great joy that will be for all the people. Today in the town of David a Savior has been born to you; he is Christ the Lord. This will be a sign to you: You will find a baby wrapped in cloths and lying in a manger." Suddenly a great company of the heavenly host appeared with the angel, praising God and saying, "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace to men on whom his favor rests." Luke 2:8-14.

Bonar winner in the "missing cups of hot chocolate" contest

The winner of the $100 find "missing cups of hot chocolate" give-away was George "Butch" Bonar of Florence.

George, right, along with his friend, Ralph Teegarden of Bellevue, entertained the News Office on Tuesday, Dec. 18th. Mr. Bonar is married to the former Rosemary Bonfield.

This year, 382 entries were received all in the hope they would receive the same call George received congratulating him for being the winner. A listing of hiding places week by week can be found on page 11. The News Office appreciates everyone who participated.

Art Guild Holiday Fundraiser A Success

The Augusta Art Guild celebrated another successful Holiday Art Gala at the Clooney Center on December 7th. Attendees were treated to a delicious dinner from Russell Catering, holiday carols by Luciano 'Sean' Moral and Sheryl Hicks, and a great deal of festive cheer. The Mystery Boxes which included original art, gift certificates, and other donated items were a great hit. Emcee Allison Parker led the bidding on several large items including a Kentucky Bourbon basket, a barn quilt designed by Cindy Hopping, and a unique Christmas tree designed by Guild member, Judith Foster, which featured one-of-a-kind holiday ornaments painted by Guild artists. At the end of the evening, a very special award was presented to longtime Guild member, Marilyn Lustik, who was named a Kentucky Colonel for her volunteer efforts in promoting the arts in the community. The evening ended on a high note with Guild President, Leah Frederick, performing some holiday standards.

Proceeds from this fundraiser will be used towards the community programs and projects of the Augusta Art Guild. The Guild appreciates all of its many donors for their continued support. More information can be found at www.AugustaArtGuild.com.

Christmas Bells, an excerpt

I heard the bells on Christmas Day, Their old, familiar carols play, And wild and sweet, The words repeat, Of peace on earth, good-will to men!

And thought how, as the day had come, The belfries of all Christendom, Had rolled along, The unbroken song, Of peace on earth, good-will to men!

Till, ringing, singing on its way, The world revolved from night to day, A voice, a chime, A chant sublime, Of peace on earth, good-will to men!

And in despair I bowed my head; "There is no peace on earth, I said; "For hate is strong, And mocks the song, Of peace on earth, good-will to men!"

Then pealed the bells more loud and deep; "God is not dead; nor doth he sleep! "The Wrong shall fail, The Right prevail, With peace on earth, good-will to men.

CHRISTMAS ... Hope it's Purr-fect!

With greetings and gratitude to all of our friends this holiday season. Your patronage makes us proud, Thanks!

Two Minutes WITH THE BIBLE by Cornelius R. Stam, Founder Berean Bible Society PO Box 756 Germantown, WI 53022

GRACE, FAITH AND SALVATION

by Pastor Cornelius R. Stam

The largest segment of the organized Church has long opposed the teaching that salvation is by grace, through faith alone. She teaches that it is by grace, through faith and good works, protesting that we do not place the proper stress on good works, and that she does place as much emphasis upon grace and faith as we.

One advocate of this religious denomination agrees that men cannot be saved without Christ or faith or grace, but objects that the grace of God, accepted by faith in Christ, is not enough to save.

He says: "All men are born in original sin, and all must be cleansed by Baptism. In Baptism, Grace is implanted in the soul by God and confers the right to heaven."

But what about the thief on the cross, who looked to Christ in his dying moments and never had an opportunity to be baptized? Was he not saved? (See Luke 23:42,43).

If, according to Heb. 10:4, it is not possible for the blood of bulls and of goats to take away sins (even though required by God), could this writer explain to us how any amount of water could possibly wash away one sin or right one moral wrong?

But one might gather from the above quotation that the baptized soul at least is safe and secure, since the grace implanted by God "confers the right to heaven." But not so. "The Church" never gives her devotees true peace or assurance; never sets them free. "The right to heaven," conferred upon the baptized person, is the right to strive for it! This writer goes on to say, "We worship God by the practice of our religious duties in order to obtain our salvation."

How satisfying and reassuring is the Word of God itself on this subject:

"Now to him that worketh [i.e., for salvation] is the reward not reckoned of grace, but of debt.

"BUT TO HIM THAT WORKETH NOT, BUT BELIEVETH ON HIM THAT JUSTIFIETH THE UNGODLY, HIS FAITH IS COUNTED FOR RIGHTEOUSNESS" (Rom. 4:4,5).

Everyone is invited, so come out and give her a day to remember.

Paul Steven Pugh, 68, of Mt. Olivet passed away Monday, December 10, 2012. Born on May 5, 1944 in Maysville, a son of the late Lee Conner and Bertie Virginia Shepherd Pugh, he was a former employee of Dravo Lime. He was a member of the Mt. Olivet Baptist Church, was a veteran of the U.S. Army and served in Korea during the Vietnam War.

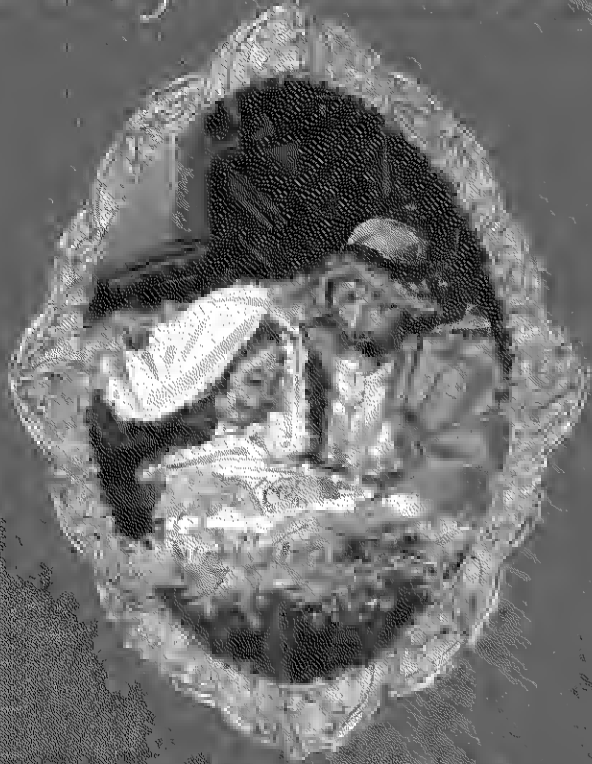

He is survived by his wife of 42 years, Linda Carol Courtney Pugh; one son, Paul (Cassie) Pugh, II of Citrus, Springs, FL; one daughter, Melissa (Brad) Barger of Pendleton, Co.; seven grandchildren, Fallon, Brayde, Dylan, Skylar, Dillon, Jaxon and Steven; his brother and best friend, Darrell Winston Pugh of May's Lick; and several nieces and nephews. He was preceded in death by two brothers, Robert Lee Pugh and Ernest Wayne Pugh; and one sister Helen Pugh Hunt.

Services were conducted Friday, December 14, 2012, at Mt. Olivet Baptist Church with Rev. Kevin Thomas officiating. Burial followed in the May's Lick Cemetery with Military rites by Simon Kenton Post #2734 VFW.

Memorials are suggested to Mt. Olivet Baptist Church.

Come and take a journey with us as we travel 20 centuries in the past to a town called Bethlehem. This hayride will transport you into a firsthand experience of what the scenes of the first Christmas might have been like.

Performances will be on Dec. 21, 22, and 23 beginning at 7 p.m. and 7:45 p.m. nightly and the event is free and open to the public.

This is a wonderful family event to remind us of the true meaning of Christmas.

OAKLAND CHRISTIAN

by Barbara Browning

It's always good to be in the Lord's House. The beautiful poinsettias adorn the sanctuary and it's just a good feeling to be there. Bro. Jim's message was "Christmas Through the Eyes of Jesus". After the morning worship, our children released balloons in memory of the victims of the Connecticut shooting. Such a sad, needless tragedy.

Several went caroling in the community and town. Appreciation to Steve and Pam Harper for having the get-together afterwards.

Choir practice is Thurs., Dec. 20, 7 p.m.

Congratulations to Bob and Dorothy Bertram upon being named the "Residents of the Year" at the Robertson County Health Care Facility.

December 23 finds us having one service only at 10:35 a.m. Our choir will be presenting its cantata, "Mary, Did You Know?" Our youth will be having their annual "Happy Birthday Jesus" party that morning, too. Evening worship will be dismissed.

We are planning a Watch Night Service, December 31, beginning at 7 p.m. There will be music, food, fellowship, and a movie. Come join us.

Prayer concerns include Bobby Johnson, Jim McCann, Harold Miley, victims and families of the Connecticut shooting, Dray Mains, Adarin Williams, Connie Biddle, Angie Hemphill, John McAlonan, shut-ins, armed forces, cancer issues, and our leaders. Our sympathy goes to the loved ones of Mrs. Margaret Bishop McCann upon her passing.

by Rita Bradford

Hello & God's Blessings from The First Baptist Church of Augusta. We wish everyone a very Merry & Blessed Christmas as we celebrate the birth of our Lord & Savior Jesus. Brother Tony's sermon was titled "Arc You About Your Father's Business?"

In this time of tragedy People are asking where is God? He's right where we put him! We no longer allow God in our schools or public places. We attend church when we feel like it or we can fit in to our busy lives but when satan attacks we always want to know where was God? God will always be doing His part but are you doing yours? We invite you to come join us as we go about our father's business. Our Services begin on Wed. night with our prayer meeting @ 7:00 p.m. Sunday services begin @ 9:30 a.m. with our Sunday School classes. This week's lesson is titled "Jesus Our Immanuel". This lesson will help us recognize Jesus as our Savior & that He is always us with us. Sunday Morning Worship begins @ 10:30 a.m. and Sunday night services begin @ 6:00 p.m. We are continuing our journey through Revelations as we learn what to expect in these end times. May we all be more dedicated to our duty of reaching the lost in these difficult times. For information please call Brother Tony Bishop 606-747-5374.

PRESBYTERIAN POTPOURRI

by Les Grooms, pastor
Augusta Presbyterian

We are continuing our study of the Book of Acts in our adult Bible study. Nine students were present. The first Sunday of the year, we will be studying Grace and this study is written by Max Lucado.

Sixty-five worshippers were present Sunday. Dorothy Selby and Mackenzie Deatley, and Daniel and Jacob Henley lit the advent candles for the third Sunday of Advent. It is traditional for us to sing A candle is Burning after the advent candles are lit. This song is sung to the tune of Away in the Manger.

Mary Murray was the worship leader, Susie Hargett was the song leader, Kay Grooms did the power point and Shelby England had children's church.

Larry England was back after having surgery. Bob Kennard is in the hospital. I visited Lynn Eberly, the pastor of the Mayslick Church, who is in the hospital.

We are planning to host a free meal on Christmas Day. The only thing that we ask is that you let us know if you are coming. You can call me at 937-549-2113 and if there is no answer, leave a message and tell me how many are coming for the free meal. The meal will begin at 11 a.m.

We are planning to have a Christmas Eve service at 7 p.m. If you have nowhere else to go, come and join us. An offering will be taken to benefit the Augusta Ministerial Association who helps those who are in need.

Last week's bread basket meal was well attended and we almost ran out of food. The next bread basket meal is Jan. 9 and then we will not have any more meals until after Lent is over. Then it will be time to get out the grill again.

Holiday Greeting

During this Holiday Season, I would like to wish my friends and family a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. Thank you for all the prayers, cards and visits this past year during my many hospital stays. May God Bless you all.

NEW LIFE FELLOWSHIP

by Beverly Whittaker

Our hearts are heavy and saddened at the tragedy at the Connecticut school shooting last Friday. We joined in prayers with other churches around the country for the families who lost loved ones.

Barb Bolar brought the special this morning December 16th entitled "Where Are The Children?" Aleisha Renfrow sang "Be Born In Me". Pastor Doug's message this morning posed the question, "How to get rich this Christmas?" God will supply all our needs and we can spend it in discipleship, fellowship, worship, evangelism and ministry.

Sunday, Dec. 23, we will be having a special Christmas service during the morning worship at 10:30 a.m. We will also be taking up a birthday gift for Jesus since it is the Lord's birthday. We invite you to join us next Sunday for Christmas.

We have many that we need to be in prayer for. We invite you to our evening meal on Wednesday at 6 p.m. and prayer service at 7 p.m. Kingdom Builders classes for all ages begin at 9:30 a.m. and praise and worship at 10:30 a.m. We are located in Gertrude at the intersection of the AA Highway and 875 on the left. Remember God loves you and so do we! May everyone have a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year!

GREETINGS FROM ST. JAMES

by Caroline Jefferson

Due to a schedule change, Fr. Bach will not be celebrating the Sacrament of Reconciliation this Thursday evening, Dec. 20 and no Friday evening Mass.

Our children's reenactment of the Nativity will be immediately following the 8 AM Mass this Sunday, Dec. 23. All are invited to worship at Mass, be uplifted with the children's presentation and then filled with good food and fellowship!

St. James Christmas Eve Mass will be celebrated at 6 PM, and 8 AM on Christmas Day. St. Augustine will have Mass at 4 PM Christmas Eve, Midnight Mass at 12 AM and 10 AM on Christmas Day. St. James Minerva will be having a Christmas Eve Mass at 5 PM.

This season of Advent has given us the opportunity to reflect on the birth of our Savior to help us prepare for the time when we will be celebrating our Christmas with Jesus Himself! The events of the past week in Connecticut remind us of just how fragile our hold is on this life! We pray that the Christ Child will be with each of you this Christmas Day and remain the most important part of all your days to come! Peace and Merry Christmas!

A Dream Come True

An old farmer had always wanted some way to do something special on Christmas Day. A special treat for his neighbors and friends. Something the boys and girls could attend.

He couldn't sing a Christmas Song. Playing an instrument was also wrong. No talent had he, or so he thought, so some other method of joy was sought.

While feeding his livestock, one cold winter morn, he saw a cast of characters and a show to be born.

Christmas carols, from his old radio, and a make-shift figures of days long ago.

These were the things to complete his display, the old fellow needed for Christmas Day. The sheep were penned and bedded down, so the children could see them when they came from town. A cow in a stall stood usually there. Close by stood the donkey with his winters' long hair.

A nativity scene was built by the farmer's own hands.

And placed amongst the animals for his visiting friends.

And music would play and the beautiful lights, he'd strung thru the barn would light up the night. At last the day came, when the dream would come true; the nativity scene lit, and the animal crew.

The people around heard of the Christmas display. They drove many miles with little delay. The children frolicked and squealed with delight, loving the animals and the Christmas lights.

And the grown-ups were amazed at what an old man could do bringing much joy at Christmas with so small a crew.

When the day was over and the crowd all went home, he turned out the lights and stopped the Christmas songs.

And went to his bed a happy man, and dreamed of next year and some other plan.

We Stand With the People of Newtown, Connecticut

U.S. Senate Republican Leader Mitch McConnell made the following remarks on the Senate floor Monday, December 17, 2012, regarding the tragic shooting, which took 26 lives, at Sandy Hook Elementary on Friday, December 14, 2012, in Newtown, Connecticut.

"I want to start by extending my deepest sympathies to the families of the victims of Friday's massacre, and to the whole community, and to thank the first responders and all those who are helping in the aftermath of this darkest of tragedies.

"Three days after the horrors of Newtown, we're all still reeling from what happened. Any time there's a shooting like this we're crushed with sorrow, but there's no escaping the fact that the massacre at Sandy Hook Elementary stands out for its awfulness. The murder of so many little children and the adults who tried to save them doesn't just break our hearts, it shatters them.

"The last few days have been scaring for all of us, and the days ahead will be too.

"Over the weekend, we began to see the faces of the children, and to hear their stories. One parent, Robbie Parker, stood up in front of the cameras on Saturday and shared with the nation an impromptu eulogy of his six-year old daughter, Emilie. It was a remarkable moment. Emilie was bright, and creative, and very loving, he said. And we marveled at his courage. And now the funerals — ten of them this week in one church alone.

"It's been said many times that no words are adequate to lift the agony of a parent like Robbie Parker. What happened in Newtown on Friday is something no parent of a young child could ever prepare for. But I think President Obama spoke for all of us in the very moving meditation he offered last night on the singularity of parental love. There is nothing we wouldn't do for our kids. And that's one of the things that makes this massacre so terrible, and which makes the stories of courage we've heard so inspiring.

"The young teacher who stood between the gunman and her students, and lost her life in the process. The principal and the school psychologist who sprang into action, and gave their lives too.

"As the President said, these luminous acts of self-sacrificing love are the moments that will define this tragedy in the years ahead, because the heroism and the courage that we never fail to see in the midst of tragedies like this point to something better and more lasting than the vagaries of this life.

"They give us the hope we need in the face of so much evil and sorrow.

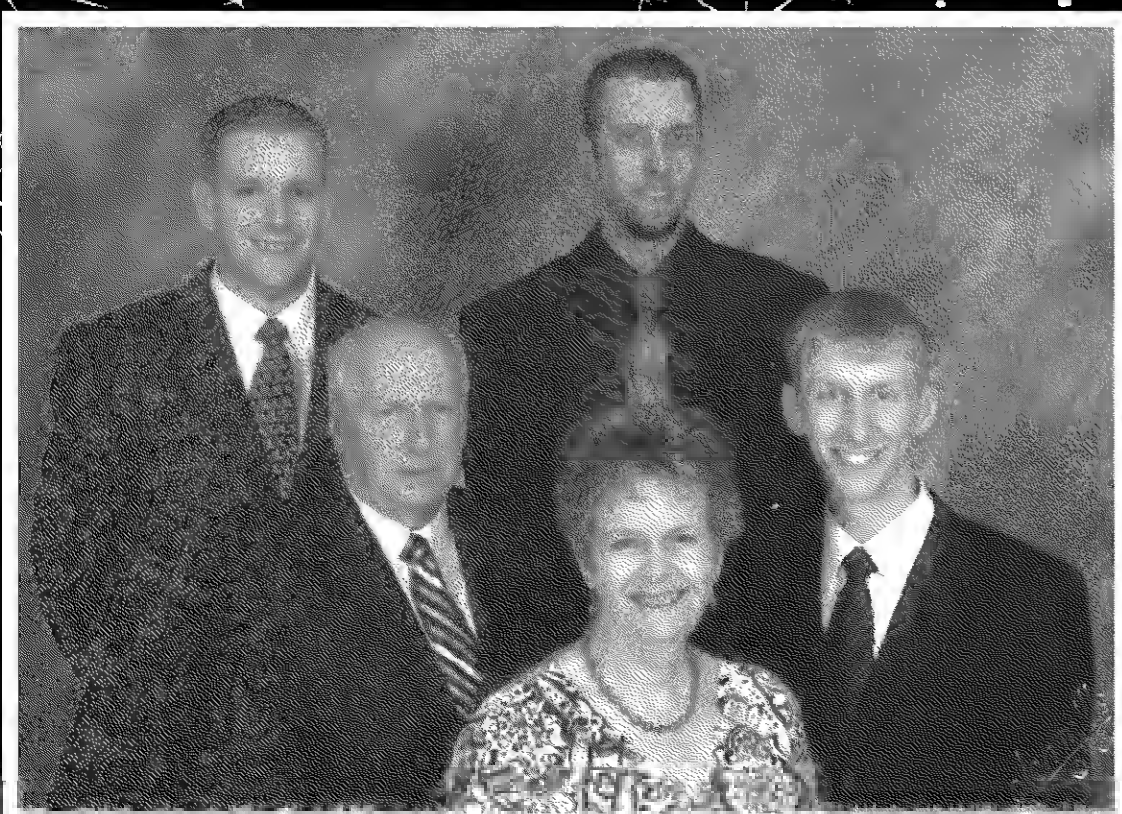

"So we stand with the people of Newtown today and in the days ahead. We can do nothing to lessen their anguish, but we can let them know that we mourn with them, that we share a tiny part of their burden in our own hearts. And that we lift the victims and their families and the entire community in prayer.

"Scripture says that while 'Now we only know in part, in the life to come we shall know, even as we are known.' Scripture also says that in that day, 'every tear will be wiped away, because there will be no more death, or sorrow, or crying, or pain, for the former things will have passed away.'

"May the people of Newtown and all Americans be consoled by this certain hope. May their burdens be lightened by the loving care of their neighbors and friends and even strangers in the days and weeks ahead. And may this terrible tragedy prompt all of us to cherish the lives we've been given, our family members and friends, and all who surround us in our daily tasks.

"This is no lasting city, we know. May we pass through it with a little more gratitude, and with a firmer determination to live the kind of lives we've been called to live."

Merry Christmas

Fantastic Sams collects nearly 600 pajamas for Hurricane Sandy children

Fifteen boxes stuffed with children's winter pajamas left Fantastic Sams salon on Tuesday afternoon. The boxes were shipped to Rockaway (Queens), New York—one of Hurricane Sandy's hardest hit communities. For two weeks, employees and community members collected pajamas hoping to reach their goal of 500. The final count...583!

Fantastic Sams owner, Pam McGlone, sent the boxes to her college roommate, Jo-An Kivlehan, who has been working closely with those affected by the hurricane. "Words cannot describe how much the children (and parents) are going to appreciate these pajamas. The nights have been extremely cold and rebuilding is going to take a very long time," stated Kivlehan. Kivlehan plans to distribute the pajamas to dislocated children living in shelters and other temporary housing.

"I know money is tight for everyone and we are so grateful to the individuals and organizations that helped us reach our goal," stated McGlone. "God has given us many blessings and we know that each pair will go to good use."

TRASH TALK

by: Mr. Recycle Bin & Ms. Pick-Up Litterbug

606-735-9960

Howdy Folks! We don't have to remind you that Christmas is next Tuesday and like so many businesses, the Recycling Center has a holiday schedule. The Center is closed on Monday and Tuesday, December 24 and 25 and then again next week, December 31 and January 1. As in the past, we will do our best to keep the trailers emptied, but it will be a couple of weeks into January before everything is back on track! This is the time of year that we really need your patience and cooperation! Boxes need to be flattened, no Styrofoam or Christmas wrap and recycle those strings of non-functioning lights at Lowe's in Maysville. Let's all just take a deep breath and enjoy the season because all will soon be well – unless, of course we are hit by a snow storm! Kentucky winters are so unpredictable!

The last of the roll-off dumpsters have been removed until spring, but we encourage you to use this time to create a 'junk pile' to be disposed when the roll-offs return! This weather has been exceptionally nice this fall, but Friday ushers in old man winter, so it may be time to pay up for the warm days of fall! But as we said, Kentucky weather is unpredictable and if you don't like today's weather, stick around because it is bound to change!

Change is something that we all experience and Friday's violence at Sandy Hook Elementary in Newtown, Connecticut, brought change to the families, school, community, state, nation and the world that will remain forever embedded in our memories! Our hearts are broken and know that even the most hardened of hearts was touched by the senseless slaughter of those twenty little children. We pray that the Infant Jesus will bring comfort to the families and friends! It is our sincerest hope that our lawmakers will realize that it is absolutely necessary to allow God in our schools! Until the Ten Commandments are taught and lived, no gun control laws will stop the violence!

In just a few short days we will be celebrating the single most important event in world history – the birth of our Savior, Jesus Christ! For many folks, our family included, it will be a most bittersweet celebration. Regardless of age, Christmas brings back memories of bygone days and we can't help but reminisce! We remember Christmases when not everyone could be home due to military service or sickness. And it is the remembrance of those Christmas days that make us appreciate and enjoy the days when we are together! Many of you have lost loved ones this year and everyone has memories of loved ones who have gone to our eternal home. Cherish those memories, but don't forget to make new ones built on the changes that have occurred. It is never the gifts that are exchanged that are remembered but the time and love shared at family gatherings.

This Christmas day as we gather at church, around the tree and the table, let us offer our thanks for the many blessings received this past year. So many folks are struggling financially, physically, mentally, and spiritually. So many folks have to work this Christmas day and we appreciate especially those in foreign lands, far from home and hearth. It is our prayer that each of you will be granted peace, love and happiness this Christmas Season! May our gift to generations to come be the good habits of RECYCLING, REUSING and REDUCING to keep God's earth clean, green and beautiful! Be seen' you – Bin & Bug.

Kentucky Farm Bureau concludes 93rd annual meeting with adoption of new policy

Kentucky Farm Bureau (KFB) concluded its 93rd annual meeting here today with its Board of Directors approving condensed lists of priority issues for 2013. The organization's delegates adopted policy positions at its business session on Friday.

Tax policies top the list on the state legislative agenda, with emphasis on a statement expressing opposition to any attempt to freeze the state real property tax rate. The state's largest farm organization supports preserving the current law which limits annual revenue from property taxes to no more than a four percent hike, plus new growth. This provision was a key part of House Bill 44 which KFB worked hard to see enacted in 1979.

In his annual address to members, KFB President Mark Haney pointed out that freezing the rate likely would amount to continuing increases as property values rise. The Pulaski County farmer advised the group to ensure that their respective legislators were aware of KFB's rationale for opposing a revision of the property tax structure.

"While House Bill 44 has resulted in a lower rate over the years, it has not caused a decline in state revenue from property taxes because valuations have risen," Haney explained. "With land representing such a valuable resource to most farmers, it's critical that we protect the structure established by House Bill 44. A significant rate increase would hit farm families hard."

KFB also wants to ensure that the state sales tax exemption for production agriculture is not impacted by any tax reform package. Additionally, it has policy to extend the exemption to production items used in the equine industry.

"The exemption is very important to the bottom lines of our farmers," said Haney. "Another aspect to consider is the potential impact on the Kentucky businesses that sell these inputs to farmers. A tax likely would prompt many farmers to make their purchases from businesses in surrounding states."

Other state legislative priorities include:

Support for the state's career and technical education programs.

Support effective wildlife management that will reduce the wildlife population in an effort to alleviate continued crop and livestock losses, automobile accidents, human injuries and loss of life.

On the national level, KFB calls for addressing the budget deficit "with the goal of reaching a balanced budget." Other priorities include:

Permanent repeal of the estate tax and further reductions of capital gains taxes.

Reforming the H-2A farm worker program to make it more reliable, economical and accessible.

"We have some key public policy challenges in the year ahead," said Haney, who is entering his fifth year in the post. "Our broad range of policy positions are aimed at strengthening our farm economy and providing farm families with essential programs and services."

With nearly 500,000 member families statewide, Kentucky Farm Bureau is the state's largest general farm organization. Approximately 1,700 members attended KFB's 93rd annual meeting, December 5-8, to recognize this year's individual and organizational achievements as well as adopt policy for 2013. Basketball

Augusta now 6-1 with wins against Bracken, Paris, and St. Pat

The hottest ticket in Bracken County last Tuesday night was in Augusta at the Panther's Den for the first meeting of the season between the visiting Polar Bears and the Panthers. Neither team came out very impressive. Augusta was fortunate to come out ahead after 1 quarter, 13-10. The offense picked up in the 2nd quarter as the tight battle ensued. The Panthers maintained the lead for the most part but couldn't shed the Polar Bears as they continued to hang around. Bracken County hit a basket just before the horn to make it 31-28 Panthers at the break.

In the 3rd quarter Augusta held onto the lead but still Bracken County stayed within striking distance as the teams started the 4th quarter with the Panthers leading, 46-40. In the 4th quarter the Polar Bears had one more run left as they cut it to 49-44. But after a Panther basket made it 51-44, Connor Maddox would nail 2 straight 3-pointers to make it 57-44 and Augusta would roll from that point to win 69-48.

Bracken: Bach 30, Freeman 13, Kelsch 12, Maddox 6, Snapp 4, Barrett 2, Crawford 2.

On Thursday night Augusta was back on the road to face the Paris Greyhounds. Augusta came out hot dropping 27

1st quarter points, including 4 3-pointers while allowing only 13. In the 2nd quarter they kept up their defensive pressure as the Greyhounds only scored 10 and at the break Augusta led 45-23. Paris would actually outscore the Panthers in the second half but it wasn't near enough to make it a game as Augusta rolled to their 3rd straight victory improving their record to 5-1.

Paris: Bach 30, Kelsch 19, Snapp 15, Freeman 9, Maddox 7, Shrader 4, Grey 2, Crawford 2.

On Friday night the Augusta Panthers were in Maysville to face the St. Patrick Saints. The Saints came out primed for an upset jumping out on the Panthers to the tune of a 17-15 lead after 1 quarter. But that excitement would be short lived as Tanner Kelsch went off scoring 17 of the Panthers' 27 2nd quarter points while holding the Saints to only 6. Augusta led 42-23 at the break. The 3rd quarter was much of the same as Augusta kept up the pressure and increased the lead to 64-32 as the teams entered the 4th quarter. St. Patrick would outscore the Panthers 27-11 in the 4th quarter but the game was well in hand as Augusta moved to 6-1 with their 4th straight win.

St. Patrick: Kelsch 24, Bach 20, Barrett 12, Maddox 10, Conn 3, Snapp 3, Crawford 2, Hunt 1.

Woods beats buzzer as Bracken downs Mason

A largely sloppy game ended in edge-of-your-seat fashion on Friday night in Maysville, as Brooke Woods put back her own miss just as the final horn sounded, giving Bracken County's Lady Bears a 67-65 victory over 39th District rival Mason County. Woods, a junior, actually had three looks in the closing seconds of overtime. The first came from fifteen feet, but the reserve guard grabbed her own rebound and shot again. She followed the second miss with another rebound and shot attempt, but this time the ball went through the net just as the final horn sounded. Being one of the smallest players on the floor at any given time, it was quite an accomplishment.

That win wasn't easy to earn for Bracken County (5-1). The Lady Bears were cold shooting for most of the night, scoring just 6 points in the first quarter. Thankfully, Mason County didn't fare much better in scoring 9 first quarter points. The Lady Royals (5-2) did manage to put together a small run to take a 19-10 lead midway through the second. Bracken County, as it would for the game's entirety, refused to go away, reducing the lead to 26-23 at intermission.

The Lady Royals again extended their lead after the third quarter was complete, holding a 45-36 advantage. The early minutes of the fourth quarter saw Mason County take its largest lead at 50-38, but Bracken again continued to whittle away. Jordan Wills' putback with 3:46 remaining made the score 52-45. The junior wing then connected on four consecutive free throws over the next minute-and-a-half of action, trimming the margin to 52-48. Mallory Bell's rebound & basket at 1:14 made it 56-54. After Mason's McKenzie Butler hit a pair of free throws, Bell connected on a layup with 12.5 seconds left making it 58-56. Alex Berry of Mason was then sent to the free throw line where she hit 1 of 2 setting up the final play of regulation. On that final play, Lady Bears freshman guard Bailey Cummins connected on a pretty step-back 3-pointer from the right wing to tie the game at 59, sending it into overtime.

The extra session of basketball saw Bracken County take its first lead on a Cindy Berry turnaround basket. After the Lady Royals tied the game, Cummins responded with a nifty 15-footer and then hit a free throw shortly after to give Bracken a 64-61 lead. The Lady Royals eventually tied the game at 65 with a minute to play, setting up the game's final possession and Woods' aforementioned heroics.

This past week had the bears in action against the cross county rival Augusta Panther and the Highlands Bluebirds.

Starting out against Augusta the game was as expected; tightly played, and keeping the crowds entertained. Entering the final quarter with the Bears trailing by 6, 46-40. However, Augusta finished the game with a 20-4 run and capped off the win with a score of 69-48 with Brent Bach adding 30 points on the night. The Polar Bears were led in scoring by Nate Haight with 13, Philip Jefferson and Austin Ray with 11, and Eli Florer with 10.

Augusta: Haight 13, Jefferson 11, Ray 11, Florer 10, G Crawford 2, A Crawford 1. Team: 19-61 (31%), 7-14 (50%) 48.

In Saturday afternoon action the Bears hosted the Bluebirds with a 2-2 record. Ending the first half down by four the Bears came out of the intermission and took the lead 34-31 in the middle of the third. That lead was followed up by an 11-1 Highlands run to end the quarter. Beginning the fourth the Bears didn't relax, and with two and a half minutes Austin Ray connected on a three to put the Bears down by one 49-50. Their comeback was capped with a couple of critical turnovers that put the Birds back up by 5. Austin Crawford hit a three with 8 seconds left to keep hope alive, but the game ended with the Bears falling to 2-4 on the year 53-57.

Highlands: Ray 15, Jefferson 13, A Crawford 10, Haight 6, G Crawford 3, Stephenson 2, Cummins 2, Florer 2. Team: 16-36 (44%), 16-26 (62%), 53.

The Bracken County Middle School and High School presented a great Winter Concert tonight (Dec.13.) You could tell Ms. Hicks and Mr. Black put major effort into leading and teaching our kids to perform by singing in the choir and playing instruments in the band. Their choices for music were complex and entertaining, including some from the classic composers and modern hit songs. Kudos to the students and leaders for making this concert possible. I'm proud of all of them.

On another note, I was majorly disappointed in the members of the audience who felt it was appropriate to walk out whenever "their" student's part was finished. There were breaks between the sets when slipping quietly out the door would have been less obtrusive. Unfortunately, many audience members chose to leave while the band was playing or the choir was singing. Not only does that make it difficult for the performers to hear and keep focused on the music they're presenting, but it's distracting to the audience to hear people stomping down the bleachers when they're trying to listen to the music.

Sports in Kentucky

by Bob Watkins

UK's Kiddies are growing up; Petrino to WKU a poor hire

Against another outmanned if feisty foe, Lipscomb, the Kentucky Wildcats are improved. John Calipari can circle-talk, make it complicated, but it isn't. Big Blue fans are witnessing one-season removed high school hot shots coming of age. How to adjust from being The Man, into a (what?) role player.

Against Lipscomb, Archie Goodwin appeared to accept he is not Dwyane Wade; Kyle Wiltjer knows his stand-and-shoot freebies from the perimeter are over until opponents are convinced Alex Poythress is Terrence Jones.

Nerlens Noel is finding rhythm, Ryan Harrow, a groove, and Jarrod Polson a new role, from People's Choice to Glue Factor.

Next, Marshall should give Kentucky a reasonable test. Maybe a how-to in physical play. Point of interest: Will Alex Poythress ignore the 'who me?' reaction to foul calls, skip the pout, and go get the ball?

Footnote. If Calipari's out-of-coach-box antics continue, the coach will cost Kentucky a technical foul, a crucial possession, even a win down the road. Ever more frequently as he rails at his players and/or the officials, Calipari wanders beyond the sideline coach's box, and at times on the playing floor.

WESTERN-PETRINO

Western Kentucky hiring Bob Petrino is disappointing. Morally, a poor choice.

Financially, the gamble is a big name on coach office door, however long it stays, profits Hilltopper athletics. (Note: Ticket price hike, wait for it)

As director of athletics Todd Stewart adjusts the feather in his cap, it seems folly to believe WKU becomes a bigger player in college sports because of this coach.

Optimist view: Western is taking one step back to take two Steps forward ... later.

Petrino contract with Hilltopper football is (coach) history repeating itself. In 1989 Rick Pitino's alliance (not allegiance) with C.M. Newton and Kentucky basketball was what it was, a stepping stone (to the Celtics).

Track record proves Petrino will be no more dedicated to Bowling Green than he was to Louisville, Atlanta or Fayetteville.

Let us hope then, Western's athletic bank account is flush with cash, when the football transitions again.

MURRAY-WESTERN

Among college basketball's most entertaining games so far - Western Kentucky at Murray

State. The 75-70 final was a Murray State home win more than a WKU loss.

Murray's Isaiah Canaan demonstrated again his All-American qualities - superb leader and uncanny shooter in a game's last five minutes. This is not last season's Racers, but fans who like it hot, would do well to have tickets for Murray games with Eastern Kentucky, Morehead State and Belmont.

Western? Defense was good enough to win at Murray. The offense, without starters T.J. Price and Jamal Crook and with no help from Kevin Kaspar, faltered. With dates at VCU and Louisville in Nashville, coming up, offense is fixable.

HERO & THE SHOT!

A hero most admired is one who gathers up his gall, recognizes a moment, grabs it by the throat and shakes the daylights out of it.

Alex Barlow, walk-on at Butler U., took a pass against No. 1 Indiana the other day, dribbled to front court, spun into the lane and took The Shot. Bumpity bump and in.

Bedlam. From the realm of Whatsisname, in a flash, Alex Barlow ascended to basketball's summit.

Alex who?

A 5-11 kid straight out of your backyard pickup game popped onto the scene and gave us relief from the tiresome flood of hyperbole lavished on 5-star anointees, McDonalds' All-Americans and television analysts who screech "did you see that!?" We can be sure, can't we, that Butler coach Brad Stevens called Barlow's number for the last shot? As certain perhaps as we can swallow Tom Crean's explanation for lifting his best shot blocker Cody Zeller (14 in 10 games) for the final 19 seconds.

Barlow's clear look at the hoop for a twisting turn-around shot that took a quirky bounce-on-the-rim, magnified Crean's mortifying blunder. But never mind. This week marks Barlow's Bravery. Break out the tee-shirts and pen another episode into Hoosier basketball book of magic.

Postscript. Barlow's dagger last week brought to mind IU's Christian Watford's shot against

'TEAMS TO BEAT'

Team to beat in April (NCAA finals) remains Indiana, Butler coach Brad Stevens said after his team shocked IU last week. He was being politically correct of course.

Reality is, as we head to Christmas, the Teams-to-Beat-in-April category has three and none is named Indiana.

As Santa Claus loads his sleigh and downs a couple Tylenol, Duke, Louisville and Kansas are in the mix.

Duke tops the poll because of its customary modus operandi - smarts meshed and maximized into (what else?) team-ness.

Louisville is emerging as a Pitino Deluxe. Veteran team driven by a man whose trademarks should already have him in the Hall of Fame - relentless defense and the WILL to "make 'em play how we want to play." Fast, frantic, physical, exhausting and full out for 40.

PARTING SHOT

Forbes Magazine ranking for best college for the money was published recently. Where do the Commonwealth of Kentucky universities rank?

No. 90 is Centre, 186 is Transylvania, 190 is Berea, 224 is Bellarmine and Asbury is 339th. At 541st is Louisville and Murray State is 547th.

Aspirant to become one of America's Top 20 universities is my alma mater, University of Kentucky ... ranks 410th. And so it goes.

Eye to Eye

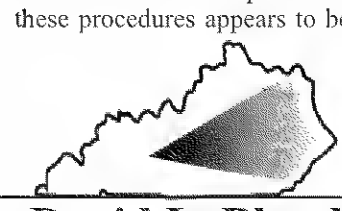

with David L. Blandford, M.D.

WILL READING GLASSES BECOME OBSOLETE?

Near-sighted individuals and those with other refractive errors can currently undergo laser procedures that may eliminate their reliance on prescription lenses. The question now becomes whether future procedures will allow middle-agers to throw away their reading glasses. It seems the answer is "yes", according to new types of intracorneal implants and LASIK-like procedures on the horizon that show promise for eliminating "presbyopia" (age-related deterioration of near focusing ability). Among these innovations are a doughnut-shaped corrective lens inserted under the cornea; a thin disk that restricts the pupillary opening; and a noninvasive, implant-free laser procedure that cuts concentric rings in the cornea. Development of these procedures appears to be limited only by reimbursement available from third-party payers such as Medicare.

If you're passionate about achieving your best possible vision and receiving the highest patient satisfaction for LASIK, then you want your LASIK eye surgery performed by KENTUCKY EYE INSTITUTE. When was the last time you had a professional eye exam? Everyone carries a different risk for vision loss based on age, medical history and lifestyle. Please call 606-759-7883 or 800-658-7282 to schedule an appointment. We're located at 1937 Old Main St., Suite 1, Maysville, where we stress preventive health care. We specialize in "EYE CARE FOR ALL AGES".

P.S. Nearly everyone develops presbyopia by approximately age 45.

Hot Wheels: A toy that transcends the ages

Hot Wheels, those little die cast tiny toy cars made by the Mattel Toy Company are loved by everyone. In 1968 the Toy manufacture put out a line of 16 cars called "Hot Wheels" to compete with the Matchbox toy car. Little did Mattel know how hot their Hot Wheels would be received! America and the World fell in love with these 1/64 scale automobiles.

Today you'll find that young and old alike love Hot Wheels. There are many avid collectors, looking for everything from the first 16 cars introduced in 1968 (also known as the Sweet Sixteen) to the latest Treasure Hunt find, hanging on the rack at your local Wal-Mart, Kmart, or Target.

Many areas have local Hot Wheel Car Clubs and many cities host Hot Wheel Conventions, Shows, and Swap Meets. Our Northern Kentucky area also hosts a new Hot Wheels Club! Calling itself "NORTHERN KENTUCKY HOT WHEEL COLLECTORS", the club is based on a Facebook Page where local collectors and enthusiast of Hot Wheels can discuss their latest finds, share photos, and more!

Founded by Lovell Linville, Eddie Groves, and David Groves, NKYHWC have already sponsored a successful Swap Meet and Hot Wheels Car Show at this past 2011 Augusta Heritage Days Celebration where they handed out Certificates to winning entries in various Hot Wheels and Die cast Toy categories.

If you are a Hot Wheel collector or just love those little toy cars, Northern Kentucky Hot Wheels Collectors invites you to join their group and check out and click "LIKE" on their Facebook page. Just search NORTHERN KENTUCKY HOT WHEEL COLLECTORS.

Small Miracles by Shelia Race

It was Christmas of 1991. We had three daughters, ages nine, six and nine months. We had just buried their beloved grandmother who had lost a long hard fight with cancer.

We were exhausted, physically, mentally and emotionally. And it was Christmas Eve. And there was a Christmas Eve service that we had to attend.

While we were getting the girls dressed, my sleep-deprived brain was struggling to remember something. Something was missing. Something was forgotten. And I couldn't put my finger on what it was.

The tree was up. A midnight trip to the store to refill empty cupboards had given me Christmas gifts gleaned from an unexpected clearance sale. Those were wrapped and under the tree. Stockings were hung. My foggy brain could not grasp what it was that was forgotten.

Then I remembered. "Paul! There are no dolls for the girls! I forgot to get them a doll. Or something stuffed. Something to sleep with..." I burst into tears. Me, the stoic who had read her mother's eulogy at the funeral, dry-eyed and calm.

He tried to reassure me. "It's ok, Shelia. The girls have gifts, plenty to unwrap. They won't notice there isn't a doll or stuffed animal. It doesn't matter. You've done well for the girls. They won't notice."

But it did matter. Maybe not to them, but to me.

We were poor growing up, but Mama always managed Christmas. And, to Mama it meant a doll for my sister and me. Someone to sleep with... a tangible sign that Mama was with me.

But now there was no time. So I did what Mama would have done... wiped my eyes, blew my nose, and called the girls to go to Christmas Eve Service.

After the service, an older lady, who was herself a grandmother, pressed three packages into my hand. "For the girls" Jean said, with her sweet smile and kind eyes. I thanked her, but was on my way quickly to head home to prepare Christmas for our girls, who no longer had their precious grandmother.

And Paul was right. The girls were thrilled with their gifts that Christmas, unaware that anything was amiss.

Then we let them open Jean's gifts. She had given each girl a handmade doll with yarn hair and a calico dress. Soft dolls, the kind you can sleep with, lovingly made by a grandmother.

The girls were excited, of course. But I was the one in tears. The one who knew that God had whispered into Jean's ear that Christmas. God knew that what I needed wasn't a doll but a certainty that I was not forgotten. Not forsaken. He cared for my hurts, my cares. He cared for me.

His hands that year were Jean's hands. His words were Jean's words: "For the girls." He was still with them. With us. We were not forgotten, not alone.

Several Christmases later, Jean went home to be with our Lord. The girls are grown now and no longer sleep with dolls, but Jean's dolls remain in their "keeper boxes". Each member is a reminder of a kind woman who was God's messenger, His angel that year.

I still remember. I will always remember. Thank you, Jean. Thank you, Lord. Have a blessed Christmas with those you love.

MERRY CHRISTMAS!

With a bundle of best wishes & gratitude to all of you from all of us.

True Holiday Spirit

by Bryan Golden

Among other things, the holidays are a time of giving and receiving gifts. The question most often asked of people is, "what did you get?" Much less frequently asked is, "what did you give?" Invariably, the inquiries concern material gifts. Purchasing a gift can certainly be thoughtful and a wonderful gesture, especially when it's backed up by your actions.

However, the most valuable presents are those that aren't sold in stores. When you give your love, your time, help someone in need, aid another in solving a problem or overcoming an obstacle, you give something priceless.

The true spirit of the holidays is giving. When you give, you receive. You can get anything in life you want by helping others get what they want. But only if you give without expecting anything in return. The impact of giving isn't limited to just the holiday season, it's something that has value all year.

The power of giving is often underestimated. When you give unconditionally, you don't just impact the recipient; you start a chain reaction. By brightening the life of one person you also affect all those who they touch.

No gesture of giving or kindness is too small. Holding the door open at a store, helping someone carry groceries to their car, letting another car in front of you, saying please and thank you, and saying hello to a stranger you pass on the sidewalk, are some of the many things you can do daily.

For family and friends, your time is one of the most precious gifts you can offer. Are you there for others when they need you? Do you offer a hand without being asked? Do you help out when asked?

Too often, people get caught up in their own desire, thus losing sight of the needs of others. A person who tries to get through life by looking out for himself or herself first is invariably frustrated. Often this person views life as a competition to determine who can accumulate more.

On the other hand, those who are concerned for the well-being of others are happier, more content, and more satisfied. By giving without expecting, they in turn receive the things they need.

Giving is a simple concept that works every time it is applied. There will be people who don't appreciate what you do, but it doesn't matter. You are giving without anticipating anything in return. Besides, there will be many more who are thankful for your efforts.

If you don't treat others well, buying a gift won't compensate for your behavior. The recipient might like what you give them but it won't make up for your actions. You can't bribe someone to forgive you the way you treat them with a present.

The best gift you can receive is the joy of making someone else happy. Being unselfish is a wonderful way to live. When you give with no ulterior motives, your actions are seen as genuine. Should you expect something in return, your behavior is always suspect. We all know people who do nice things only when they want something in return.

Make giving a daily routine. Don't start and end with the holiday season. Every day is a good day to do something nice. When people feel good due to your actions, you can't help but feel happy yourself. And THAT is priceless. The most significant action you can take is having a positive impact on the lives of others.
